Conclusions

- OMPS will provide a high-quality, high-spectral resolution dataset of ozone and other trace gases in the stratosphere and mesosphere.
- AER-OMPS will use this dataset for a wide range of atmospheric science and environmental monitoring applications.
- Future research will continue to improve the performance and accuracy of the retrieval algorithms.
- The data will be used for a wide range of atmospheric science and environmental monitoring applications.

---

Acknowledgements

The following people have made significant contributions to the AER-OMPS effort:
- Jennifer Hegarty (AER; now with Ontar)
- Richard Lynch (AER)
- Tom Swissler (Hughes STX; Consultant)
- Quinn Remund (Ball Aerospace)