

Weekend Excursions requiring prior registration

Below you will find a list of weekend activities that can be selected either in Darmstadt or in the surroundings. They will require a pre-booking at the time of registration due to limitation of participants or to ensure a minimum participation. All these activities are not covered by the registration fees and will have to be paid in cash by the participants on the first day of the Conference. For pre-booked activities a cancellation will be accepted with one week' notice.
